Summary Explanation/Background

Under the Charter as adopted in 1974, Broward County abolished the Office of Tax Collector and transferred certain powers from the Clerk of Court to the County (ex officio clerk, auditor, recorder, and custodian of County funds). In 2018, an amendment to the Florida Constitution ("Amendment 10") removed the ability of a county charter to abolish constitutional offices and transfer the powers to another office. However, pursuant to a special law approved by the Legislature and the County's voters in 2020, the County will retain most of the Clerk of Court's nonjudicial functions, notwithstanding Amendment 10, except that the recording power will revert to the Clerk.

This Resolution proposes a Charter amendment to ensure consistency between the Charter and Florida law, and places a question on the ballot at the General Election on November 8, 2022, to approve that Charter amendment. If approved by the County's electorate, the amendment will become effective on January 7, 2025, except that it will also apply for purposes of electing the Tax Collector during the 2024 General Election. If the Charter is not amended, those provisions of the Charter inconsistent with the Florida Constitution will become invalid and unenforceable.

Six (6) affirmative votes are required to place this proposed Charter amendment on the ballot.
