Good Evening Ms. Clark-Forbes,

In reviewing the evaluation forms, I see that even though Calvin, Giordano & Associates, Inc. was my third-ranked firm, I actually didn't rate them significantly lower than the other raters. Their ratings ranged from 90 to 92 and I rated them an 89. The criteria where the most consistent difference between the other raters and me seemed to be for the Project Approach.

I perhaps found them lower in the Project Approach rating items based on some of the alternatives they provided, which I did not deem appropriate or realistic for specific conditions at Palm Avenue and Pembroke Road; these were the left-turn elimination scenario and more so, the left-turn overpass scenario. They also didn't provide much if any information regarding technologies such as the fiberoptic network and adaptive signal control. Lastly, their proposed alternative was to add through lanes (add/drop lanes) but when I questioned them as to what the lengths of those lanes should be, they really couldn't provide a good response.

Please feel free to contact me should you require additional information.

Sincerely,
Andrew

Good morning, Mr. Andrew Sebo:

Please find attached the electronic scoring sheets from Final Evaluation Committee meeting for which you served as an evaluation committee member.

As stated at the EC meeting, “at the discretion of the Board, the Evaluation Committee Members may be requested to substantiate their recommendation and discuss their review of the submittals”. As such, your feedback and perspective is important to the procurement process. Therefore, we are requesting your rationale that led to your scores for Calvin, Giordano & Associates, Inc. (noted the firm was third-ranked firm in your individual scores versus first ranked for other EC members).

Thank you again for serving as an EC member for this important Broward County project. I look forward to your reply.

Respectfully,

Latoya Clark-Forbes
