Summary Explanation/Background

There is an ongoing concern regarding potentially deceptive trade practices by private couriers holding themselves out to the public as County or State-authorized motor vehicle tag or title agencies. Private couriers are not governmental nor government-licensed motor vehicle tag or title agencies, but rather private businesses that charge members of the public in excess of the actual costs for the license, registration, validation, or title work on a motor vehicle and then have those applications processed by an authorized tag agency. As a result, members of the public may be misled into paying excess fees for motor vehicle tag and title services that they can obtain at a lower cost directly.

Private couriers are currently required to obtain performance bonds for the services they provide pursuant to Section 20-11 of the Broward County Code of Ordinances ("Code"), and certain activities and misleading representations by private couriers are prohibited pursuant to Section 20-164 of the Code. These existing regulations, however, may not adequately protect the public or appropriately sanction private couriers engaging in improper conduct.

This Motion would direct the Office of the County Attorney to analyze the existing provisions in the Code that currently regulate private couriers and recommend amendments that appropriately regulate potentially deceptive business practices.
